

Home

Hotmail

Search

Shopping

MoneyCentral

People & Chat

Travel

Passport
sign inFind a date..
MSN Personals!

Living

Horoscopes

Dining

MSN Personals

- Auctions
- Careers
- Computing
- Elite Model Look
- Entertainment
- Gambling
- GamingZone
- Health
- Living
- Mobile
- MoneyCentral
- MSN Live!
- MSN Personals
- News
- Shopping
- Sports
- Travel
- Windows XP
- WindowsMedia
- Women

- Chat
- Communities

Death by chocolate

Death By Chocolate is one of the world's most popular dessert recipes - and you'll find it at Chocolate Cuisine, the chocolatiest site on the Net. Here you'll find nothing but scrumptious chocolate recipes, tips and hints. You can add your own chocolate recipes to the site, email them to friends and search the database by title, ingredient or keyword. Go on - indulge yourself!

- Wallpaper finder: browse patterns online!
- Jury is out to nail Big Brother "Judges" on Sunday
- Light and bright: quick dishes for summer parties
- Winnie the Pooh really is a silly old bear

Love Mail

Adam Wants Eve

This is a serious advert for any woman looking for a serious I love outdoors alot but also enjoy the cuddling up to a romantic movie with candlelight.

Friendship

I would like to have friends of any age/ gender. I'm a very energetic kind of person(student) and I love having a good time.If you're interested and like living in the fast lane, then come and share some fun with me.

Wildlife Campus

Demo Lesson - Experience a bit of Africa

WildlifeCampus presents its Demo Lesson. Complete a FULL DEMO LESSON and see what you can expect from our Game Ranging course. ? Learn Protect Save

Dynamic Populations

Animal populations fluctuate either naturally or in response to management. This course looks at birth and death rates, age structures, reproductive potential, sex ratios, population growth and population parameters.

Brucellosis, that's not a word is it ?

WildlifeCampus presents its FREE to use Glossary of Scientific and Biological terms.

CARtoday.com

Natref up and running

The Natref Refinery in Sasolburg that has been out of commission since a fire in June has begun operating again.

Nasser in the firing line?

Rumours have began circulating again that Ford chief executive Jacques Nasser could be ousted soon as the company has its credit rating lowered and prepares to report its second consecutive quarterly loss.

Nissan, Renault grow closer

Nissan has denied reports that it may form an umbrella company with Renault, but rumours are growing that the Japanese manufacturer will take a 15 per cent stake in the French manufacturer next year.

Street Finder

look for any place in South Africa
and we'll show it to you on the map

Search for in

Type in the Town, Suburb, Street name or Landmark

- Get away to Africa
- Naked Chef recipes!
- Madam and Eve
- Wine online
- Gay in SA
- Big Brother
- Sizzling sex with Dr Eve
- Online dictionaries
- AA Accommodation Guide
- Easy DIY and crafts
- Organic gardening
- Pets and animals
- Free SA music downloads
- SA Comedy Club

GetawaytoAfrica.com

Africa-wide campaign against sleeping sickness launched

BURKINO FASO, Ouagadougou, (IRIN) - Burkina Faso's Prime Minister, Ernest Paramanga Yonli, launched a campaign on Friday to eradicate the tsetse fly and sleeping sickness from Africa. The Pan African Tsetse Fly and Trypanosomiasis Eradication Campaign (PATTEC) was launched at a five-day meeting in Ouagadougou, attended by some 300 scientists from Africa, the Americas, Asia and Europe.

Five African countries top deforestation list

COTE D'IVOIRE, Abidjan, (IRIN) - Five African countries were among nations with the highest net loss of forests between 1990 and 2000, the UN Food and Agriculture Organisation (FAO) said in their latest forestry report.

Transfrontier park renamed The Great Limpopo

SOUTH AFRICA - The Gaza-Kruger-Gonarezhou Transfrontier Conservation Area, stretching over 35 000 square kilometres between South Africa, Zimbabwe and Mozambique was last week officially renamed "The Great Limpopo" by the ministers of environment in the three countries.

Africam

Picture of the Day

Inquisitive Zebra seen on Okaukuejo Cam .

Field Guide: Aardvark

The aardvark preys on termites and uses its extremely powerful claws to break through termitaria to find its prey.

Cam Guide: Hluhluwe Safari Cam

The aardvark preys on termites and uses its extremely powerful claws to break through termitaria to find its prey.

Winetoday.co.za

Sacre bleu!

The French may finally have opened their eyes to the growing threat of New World wine producers who have seized 20% of the world export market in the last two decades.

Voyage of discovery

Four cellar hands from across the Cape were recently selected to visit Californian wineries, as part of a two and a half months training exercise.

Just released

Stellenbosch Vineyards has released a Kumkani Pinotage 1999, bringing to three the number of wines in this, its most recent range of wines.

MSNBC Family

Young widow offers online support

The resonance of Sept. 11 for one widow was to quickly build a Web site to offer online support. By Lisa Napoli.

Dating services in high demand

Americans emotionally battered by the deadly assaults of Sept. 11 are reaching out for love.

After the fall, searching for the pets

After the World Trade Center tragedy, displaced pets benefit from rescue efforts. And pet owners find much needed comfort. By MSNBC's Lisa Napoli.

Discovery Channel

Anthrax Letter Reaches Congress*Pakistan: Kill Taliban Leader*Dust Storm Engulfs Mars

Safari.net

Lodge of the day:

Relax as the gentle waters of the Chobe River lap at your feet, bathed in the everlasting African sunshine, then beat a dusty trail with your guide at sunset?

Today's Recommended Safari:

African Collage, an eight-day train sojourn, travelling from Pretoria to Cape Town.

Did you know?

A baby giraffe is about six feet tall at birth, and weighs 45kg (100 pounds).